CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Red Cross Committees Making Big Effort to Bring Alexandria's Contribution up to $5,000.

Today is the last day of the Red Cross campaign and every one of the various committees is making a drive to bring Alexandria's contribution up the mark—five thousand dollars.

Saturday night the total amount was considerably over four thousand. Several of the men's Sunday School Bible classes turned over the collections received yesterday to the fund. Immanuel Bible Class of Christ Church contributed $77.52, which is said to have been the largest received from any of the classes. The Lincolnia Civic and School League has sent $34.30 to be added to the fund from this city. Practically every subscription has been paid in cash.

It is hoped that any who have not yet contributed will try and do so this afternoon or tonight before 8 o'clock, in order that the full amount of five thousand may be in hand by that time.

The total sum asked for throughout the country is the largest amount ever asked from any nation, but the cause is a most worthy one, and it is hoped that our own city will do its proportionate share. Any and all contributions received after today will be appreciated and credited to Alexandria, the committee states, but they would prefer, if possible, to get all in by tonight.

Yesterday was Red Cross day in many of the churches throughout the land, the collections for the morning services being turned over entirely to the Red Cross.

Ten per cent of all the receipts on the New York city subways and elevated roads taken into day (Monday) are to be given to the Red Cross, and it is thought that New York city as a whole will give a total of forty millions!

One of the members of the Red Cross War Council at Washington writes:

"The United States is about to mobilize a million of our finest young men for the defense of our country and for Liberty. They will face danger and suffering; many will be wounded. They must have care. Caring for these men, relieving their sufferings—and there can be no more humane task alloted to mankind—is the work of the Red Cross. Nothing is more worthy of our unselfish and whole-hearted support than this. Many of us will have ones near and dear to us with our troops in France and the thought that, by our contributions to the Red Cross, we can help to make it possible for them to have the proper care, probably to be saved and returned to us, is most comforting."

TO BUY LAND IN VIRGINIA.

"Do Children Count?"

Little Mary McAlister, aged six years, makes her debut as a full-fledged photoplay star at the Richmond tonight, when Essanay launches the first of its series of child problem plays, "Do Children Count?" This little girl already is widely known in the pictures, having had prominent roles in several of Henry B. Walthall's recent productions, and others.

"The Star Spangled Banner," a great patriotic story, will also be shown.

Card of Thanks.

Our thanks are hereby tendered to the city fire department for the efforts put forth to save our property yesterday morning. The work done was appreciated.

FOOD CONTROL FIGHT

President's Request For Action In Time for Crops Likely to be Realized.

President Wilson's request upon Congress for food control legislation in time to deal with this year's crops promises to be realized. With the battleground turning to the Senate, following the overwhelming passage of the Control bill by the House, Senate leaders, including those who oppose as well as those who lead the Administration's fight, last night predicted action there late this week or early next week.

Retention by the Senate of the drastic prohibition amendments added by the House or at least of provisions prohibiting use of foodstuffs in manufacturing distilled spirits, generally is deemed probable. The principal fight on the prohibition question is expected to come over permitting manufacture of malt liquors and wines. Senate sentiment against further manufacture of whisky, brandy and other distilled spirits is widespread, but many "dry" Senators oppose extending the prohibition to beer and wines.

Today the bill, as it passed the House, will be substituted for the Chamberlain draft, which the Senate has been debating perfunctorily during the past week. Compromise amendments resulting from Senators' conferences may be added.

House changes, Senators agree, have removed many features upon which attack in the upper branch has been centred. Senator Gore, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, who has been prominent in opposing the original bill, said tonight that all but a very few objectionable features were eliminated by the House.

The House bill will be kept continuously before the Senate until disposed of. General debate is scheduled to continue for a few days, several Senators having prepared speeches.

Aside from the prohibition features the principal disputes expected in the Senate are over the licensing, minimum price fixing and guarantee sections, and the provision authorizing the President to fix import tariff rates in maintaining price guarantees. The section giving the President and food administrator broad "blanket" powers also is opposed. Compromises are being sought on these questions, but Administration leaders claim enough votes to retain the House provisions on all.

Some Senators will endeavor to extend Government control to coal, oil, iron and steel. coper, lead and various other basic materials.

ROOT AROUSES RUSSIANS.

No Foreigner Ever Before Enlisted Attention of Committees Representing Working Classes.

Moscow, June 25.—The first meeting attended here by Elihu Root and members of the American commission, Friday was held in the palace of the Governor-General. There were assembled representatives of the Zemstvo and municipal unions, the Zemstvo industrial committee and the local Council of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies.

The meeting was in the nature of a test to determine whether the commission was to have the real sympathy of the Socialist element in the country. It is said here that no foreigner ever before succeeded in enlisting the attention and interest of this association of committees representing the working masses of Moscow. But as Mr. Root began to speak, antagonism and indifference yielded to rapt attention, and he was warmly applauded at the conclusion.

"We have seen nothing since we came to Russia," said Mr. Root, "that gives cause for criticism. We marvel at the self-control, the kindliness of spirit and the sound common sense that the Russians display. We feel that the work you are doing in the committees is on the right path toward a permanent democracy.

"The government of Germany, the German social system, even German socialism, all are militaristic in their essential nature. They shall not gain control of free America, and if we can help you to prevent their gaining control of free Russia we have assisted in the perpetuation of the ideals of our fathers who fought and sacrificed to make us free."

AFTER MORE RECRUITS

Members of Company G Making Drive to Increase its Number of Men—Alexandria Falling Behind

The President having declared week beginning June 25th to be enlisting week, a drive is being made to bring Company G up to full war strength. This command needs forty-eight men to bring the company up to the required one hundred and fifty, there being now one hundred and two who have qualified.

Another fact that requires consideration is that all men that enlisted in the regular army or National Guard before June 30th will be considered in the State quota of the draft. This is true only of men between the ages of 21 and 31.

The city has not obtained its share of recruits and the officers trust that this can be overcome before the end of the week. In comparison with other cities in the state Alexandria is behind, as a Staunton has two companies, Covington has one hundred and forty men, Charlottesville has one hundred and thirty-five men and they are still coming.

The last two men to be placed on the honor roll are James King and Ryland Compton.

CIRCUS IS BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd Attends Benefit Performance for Boy Scout Fund and Soldiers' Rest Rooms.

The society circus given Saturday afternoon on the high school grounds proved to be one of the most attractive entertainments ever given in this city. The great attractiveness of the circus lays in its unqueness as a type of benefit entertainment, and a large crowd was present to witness the different "ring events" and sideshow features.

Justice Harry B. Caton was ringmaster, and distinguished himself in that capacity. Among the various event was a reproduction of a pioneer scene a la William F. Cody. In this scene a pioneer wagon was held up by Indians, and rescued by soldiers, impersonated by members of the Alexandria Light Infantry. Much merriment was occasioned among the spectators by some of the side show features, and all together the program proved to a creditable one.

Proceeds from the circus are to be turned over to the fund of the Bay Scouts of this city for the securing of larger rooms for them and for rest rooms for soldiers in the different camps stationed around Alexandria.

There will be a strawberry and ice cream festival tonight at 7 o'clock at the residence of Miss Lucy Graves, 623 south Fairfax street, for the benefit of the Salvation Army. They need your help more than ever and you can help them and also spend an enjoyable evening by attending the festival tonight and taking your friends with you.

SMUGGLERS OF LIQUOR

Two Negroes Arrested Saturday With Unlawful Quantities of Stimulants in Their Possession.

Early Saturday night Sergeant Roberts intercepted Aaron Jackson, colored, as he left an electric train at Prince and Royal streets, the sergeant suspecting that Jackson had several bottles of liquor in his possession. When asked the nature of the bundle he was carrying, the negro replied that he had been to market for the purpose of laying in articles of food for Sunday. The sergeant, however, was desirous of investigating Jackson's lavder, and while so engaged pulled three quart bottles and a half pint bottle from the bundle. Jackson was locked up and this morning made to face the Police Court. He was sent on to the grand jury.

Officers Roland and Henderson on Saturday night arrested a negro named John Towers for having in his possession a quart bottle and two pint bottles of whisky. He was brought to the bar this morning and also ordered to be held for the grand jury.

Nine white men had been arrested Saturday night and yesterday on the charge of being drunk. One faced the bar and was fined $5. The others forfeited their collateral by failing to appear.

A negro named Thomas Martin had been arrested by Sergeant Wilkinson and Officers Campbell and Power on the charge of carrying a pistol. He was fined $20.

A young white man, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear

Thomas Cole, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

Mamie Gray, colored, charged with fighting, was fined $5.

Esther Colwell, colored, charged with a similar offense, was dismissed.

Two horses were taken up last night while roaming the streets.

REGISTRATION OF WOMEN

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett Appointed Local Chairman of Registering Virginia Women for War Service.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett of this city has accepted the position of chairman for Alexandria in the work of registering the women of Virginia over sixteen years of age for war service. The plan of registration was adopted by the Virginia Council of Defense following the report of Mrs. B. B. Munford, chairman of the women's committee of defense

Mrs. E. C. Minor, of Richmond, has been appointed chairman of the state organization for the registration of Virginia women for war service, and Mrs. Barrett's work, like that of the different chairmen for each city in the state, numbering more than 5,000 inhabitants, will be under Mrs. Minor's direction.

Plans for the registration of the women will be on similar lines, it is expected, to those of the registration of the men of the nation between 21 and 31 on June 5, registration day. The methods will be worked out at another meeting of the women's committee of defense, which is to be held in Richmond tomorrow, at which time the chairmen for all the cities in Virginia will be announced. Mrs. Barrett has just wired her acceptance of the position of local chairman to the Richmond headquarters.

Virginia is among the first few states to get in line in the big movement of Herbert Hoover, food administrator of the nation, for the conservation of food and other war services by the women of the nation. New York and Virginia both are taking similar steps in regard to the registering of its women.

It is hoped that Alexandria will rank among the first few cities in the state of Virginia in regard to the interest and avidity with which they take up this work. Definite plans for the registration will be available in a few days.

700,000 READY TO FIGHT

Half Million Men Added to United States Forces Since War Began. Between This Country and Germany

More than half a million men have volunteered in the American army and navy during the period of less than three months that has elapsed since war was declared to exist.

The army, navy and National Guard represented an aggregate strength of little more than 300,000 men when the war resolution was adopted. Yesterday between 700,000 and 800,000 were enrolled in the various branches of the fighting service and the great majority of them are armed, equipped, and under training. They will be joined at the end of the summer by nearly a million men, selected for the new national army from the millions registered for war duty June 5.

The regular army totaled a little more than 100,000 men three months ago; it is now nearing the 250,000 mark. and War Department officials, backed by the press of the country, are bending every effort to bring it up to 300,000 during the present week.

The National Guard, 150,000 strong when war came, numbers nearly 260,000 today, according to the best estimates available. Of that number nearly 75,000 actually are under arms, guarding against German plotters and doing the job in a thorough and soldierly way, as shown by the trivial damage the plotters have been able to inflict.

The Marine Corps, whose slogan of "First to Fight" has been respected by the Government in attaching a seasoned regiment of sea soldiers to Major-General Pershing's expeditionary force to France, has been raised form 17,000 to nearly 30,000 men.

The regular bluejacket force of the navy, the men behind the big guns, and who already are trying their metal against the enemy in the waters off the Irish coast under Vice-Admiral Sims, or upon armed American freighters has been raised from less than 60,000 to 120,000.

The boys of the country have thronged to the navy in such numbers that recruit stations could not be built fast enough to accommodate them.

VIRGINIA BAPTISTS

Tenth Annual Summer Encampment At Virginia Beach July 6.

The encampment season of the Virginia Baptist Association for 1917 will begin Friday morning, July 6, and close Sunday evening, July 15. The program provides for one of the richest and most varied feasts that has ever been enjoyed at Virginia Beach by the Baptists.

In former years only a part of the normal course has been taught at the encampment. On account of the fact that onefourth of the Baptist teaching force now holds the diploma, while a large number of these have various seals to their credit, it has been arranged to teach all of the eight courses this season. In addition to the books offered in the first course, those who hold the Blue Seal (given for the completion of eight books) will be able to pursue a post-graduate course. The training school for Sunday-school workers will have the following faculty. (Two periods daily, July 9-14):

C. E. Croslaad—Divisions I and II of the "Normal Manual."

W. R. Cullom—Division III of the "Normal Manual."

Thomas J. Watts—"Winning to Christ."

R. E. Gaines—"Talks With the Training Class."

Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon—"Seven Laws of Teaching."

H. L. Strickland, Miss A. L. Williams, E. J. Wright, and Mrs. F. H. Leavell—Teaching the departmental courses listed under Course 5.

THE ZIONIST MOVEMENT.

Jerusalem has been trodden down by the Gentiles for many centuries. In the meantime Jews who have lived in and near the ancient capital have been wailing around the walls of the city of the Great King, while others of the race have been praying with their windows opened toward Jerusalem, firmly believing that the forecasts of their seers will eventually be fulfilled when Judea will once more be in possession of the descendants of Abraham.

Many Hebrews believe that the outcome of the present war will prove favorable for the realization of dreams of the centuries.

There assembled in Baltimore yesterday a congress of which it may be said without the least exaggeration that its discussions and the suggestions and recommendations that will be sent out from it will be accepted as a message by many thousands of the Jewish race distributed over the United States and by millions distributed over the vast region involved in the war sweep. The twentieth annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, which formally opened at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon, has attracted to Baltimore many world famed leaders of the Zionist movement. It is apparent to the most casual observation that enthusiastic interest in the movement was never more alive.

It is claimed by those who speak from an intimate and broad knowledge of the trend of Jewish thought and sentiment that the war has greatly strengthened the Zionist movement. They say that what seemed a dream—the restoration of Palestine to the Jews and the setting up of a modernized Jewish nation—is looming in the promise as a dream that may come true. If it be said that the idea behind it is merely sentimental the answer is that all movements that have effected national readjustments have owed their success to the sentimental impulse. They say that the Zionist movement has a grand historic mission to fulfil. They believe that events are shaping for the realization of the grand idea.

SAFE AND SANE FOURTH

A strong stand for a safe and sane celebration of the fourth of July in all parts of Philadelphia was taken last week by the Independence Day Committee of the Board of Recreation, which met in the Mayor's reception-room in City Hall for the purpose of hearing requests from associations in all parts of the city for money to finance celebrations on that day. Besides emphatically stating that no part of the fund appropriated by the city is to be used for the purchase of fireworks, the committee strongly recommended that the great national holiday be observed in a safe manner.

The action of the city of brotherly love, where the Declaration of Independence was first proclaimed to the world, should be followed by all cities and towns throughout the United States. There never was any real reason why so much powder should be used on the anniversary of the birth of the nation, and the fact that some persons are killed and many injured by Fourth of July celebrations has caused the authorities of the larger cities to forbid explosions or the use of fire works on this occasion.

There is a good reason why such diversions should be out of order on the Fourth of July, 1917. Our country is infested with enemies, at this particular time, and to allow the sale and use of explosives, fireworks, etc., would place in the hands of these hostile foreigners means by which they could accomplish great damage.

During the past twenty years the authorities of Alexandria have endeavored to suppress the use of explosives of all kinds in this city. Mayor Fisher will, as usual, direct the police to see that no such devices are sold or used here on the Fourth. The laws of the city are clear upon this subject, and it is hoped they will be enforced to the letter.

THE KAISER'S PREDICAMENT

German writers, civilians as well as military, have for many years accustomed the German people to the thought of war as a great and glorious enterprise, certain to be remunerative to Germany, and in past years the only agency by which Germany had grown great. The country prided itself on its military power, and expected to use that power to get what it wanted, if other nations did not give up without war. The fact that halt has been called upon the Teutons is rendering the nation frantic.

As a contemporary observes, the Kaiser is today contending with the forces of democracy. As Carl W. Ackerman pointed out in the new York World yesterday in a convincing statement along lines frequently touched on before, the Kaiser is torn between two forces within the empire. On one side is the Pan-German party, which demands complete conquest with annexations and enlargements; on the other is the mass of the German people, who believe Germany is waging a defensive war, and who, at the same time, are demanding a larger share in the government. To steer a middle course so as to retain the hearty support of both elements, is the Kaiser's difficult task today. Unless he can persuade the Junkers that he has yielded will yield, none of the aims with which he began the war, he will largely alienate that class. Unless he can continue to convince the thinking masses that they will be granted a real voice in the affairs of the empire, he will lose that support of the people which even a Kaiser must possess, in time of war.

If Germany were to win, it is inconceivable that it would omit any demand that would serve to gratify Pan-Germanic ambition, and it is equally inconceivable that the people would be permitted to assume the rights and privileges they have been led to believe would be theirs. From Germany itself comes proof that to make Germany with the rest of the world safe for democracy, Germany must be defeated.

PROHIBITION AND DRUNKENNESS.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the Police Court of this city, published elsewhere in the Gazette, nine white men were arrested Saturday night and yesterday for being drunk in the streets. Two negroes were taken in custody for having unlawful quantities of liquor in their possession.

It is believed as firmly as anything else that cannot be easily proven that liquor is still sold in Alexandria notwithstanding the prohibition laws of the state, as it not probable that the same victims of King Alcohol before the state went dry and who now manage to "tank up" go to Washington for their supplies. It will be seen that a negro who has often figured in the Police Court during the past twenty years, who is a stevedore by occupation, had in his possession three quart and one half-pint bottles of whisky when taken in custody Saturday night. He was also carrying a supply inside him. It is not to be supposed that this negro, barely earning enough for existence, spent $3.25 for liquor in Washington beside the amount he expended for drinks while in that city. It is highly probable that the three quart bottles were intended for places where liquor is sold in defiance of the law.

WASTE IN CHARITY.

The Times-Dispatch says that great conservation of energy, as well as of money and supplies, would be provided by the consolidation or close association of Richmond's charities. If the war continues, this reform will surely come, and it should be consideerd now. As a matter of sober, unemotional and unsentimental fact, it ought to be adopted now.

Richmond is "overcharited." That is to say, there are about twice as many charity organizations of one sort or another as the situation requires. Half as many would do twice as much work, and do it better and cheaper. There are women in Richmond who belong to so many "boards" that they don't have time to look after their families.

Co-ordination would save a great part of this wasted energy. It would save much money. If we go on wasting both money and energy, as we do, we shall have to deny relief either to the poor who are with us here or to the victims of the war. At this crisis waste of any sort is a crime—and it is one of the crimes most frequently committed in charity's name.

HOW JOHNSON PROPOSED

For downright prose Dr. Johnson's offer of hand and heart to his second wife would be very hard to beat. "My dear woman," said Johnson, "I am a hardworking man and withal something of a philosopher. I am, as you know, very poor. I have always been respectable myself, but I grieve to tell you that one of my uncles was hanged."

"I have less money than you, Doctor," demurely answered the lady, "but I shall try to be philosophical, too. None of my relatives has ever been hanged, but I have several who ought to be."

"Providence and philosophy have evidently mated us, my good woman," said the doctor as he pressed a chaste salute upon the lady's brow.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

First news of a German railway strike, which is said to have begun Friday afternoon, has reached Amsterdam. Berlin dispatches say the majority of the Prussian state railroad's car shop employes walked out, and the remainder is about to follow. They demand a nine-hour day.

The biggest Fourth of July England has ever seen, if plans formulated by both Americans and British are carried out in full, will be a demonstration throughout all England to mark the reunion in spirit of the two great English-speaking nations. The annual banquet of the American Society in London will be the most impressive of these celebrations. Foreign Minister Balfour is to be the principal guest of honor. Notable Americans, including Ambassador Page, will also speak.

The Sinn Feiners were active in Cork, Ireland, early yesterday morning, when they smashed windows in a number of recruiting offices and by means of a fire escape hoisted the republican flag on the courthouse flagstaff and smashed the scales held by the figure of justice over the courthouse. They committed many other acts of violence.

Three naturalized Italians were ambushed and murdered in Dawson, Pa., yesterday. The crime seemed to have been committed by one man. The bodies were riddled with bullets.

Belgium and Russia united yesterday at the tomb of George Washington in paying homage to the American patriot and to the spirit of liberty and freedom which his memory incarnates. The official diplomatic missions from the Belgium and from the new Russian democracy pledged themselves and their countries to every effort for the destruction of autocracy and the safety of democracy.

Two young Baltimore society men were instantly killed yesterday evening at Lothiar, Anne Arundel county, Md., when their automobile skidded in rounding a corner and turned over twice. VIRGINIA NEWS.

In recognition of the advance in the cost of living, President George W. Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, has issued a circular announcing a salary increase of 5 per cent, effective on July 1. The increase will be paid to all employees serving the company in offices, stations and dining and parlor cars whose compensation is not covered by an agreement. Several thousand men are affected.

The outlook for the Irish potato crop on the Eastern Shore of Virginia is not promising. Blight has gotten into the potatoes, especially in Northampton. In some instances whole fields have been plowed under. The Eastern Shore of Virginia Produce Exchange handled 100 cars last week, 20,000 barrels, for which they received about $10 per barrel. Norman Belote delivered a car, receiving $2,000 for the sale. Experts claim the blight is due to planting the same land in potatoes year after year. The yield so far has been very good.

At a very enthusiastic meeting of Schiller Lodge, No. 139, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Richmond, the following resolutions were passed. Resolved first, That Schiller Lodge, No. 139, I. O. O. F., the only lodge in the State which conducts its entire proceedings in the German language, hereby declares its loyalty to the United States and pledges itself to do all in its power to forward the aims and principles as enunciated by the President and Congress. Second, That the members of this lodge, during their terms of service with the colors, will have their dues remitted, and on return, will be received into and enjoy all the benefits of the lodge."

MUTINY AT AN END.

Rear Admiral Glennon, U. S. N., Cordially Received by Russian Black Sea Fleet.

Petrograd, June 25.—Rear Admiral James H. Glennon, U. S. N., and his staff returned to Petrograd yesterday from a visit to the Black Sea fleet at Sebastopol. The cordiality of their reception was not affected by the mutiny among the sailors of the fleet, which started just before their arrival, and which now is at an end, tranquillity having been restored.

Admiral Lukin, who had been selected by the sailors and workmen to replace Admiral Koltchak in command of the Black Sea fleet, greeted the Americans, as did delegates from the councils of workmen, soldiers and sailors who accompanied him. Admiral Glennon and his party also were entnusiasticaly welcomed on board the ship by the sailors, who gave exhibition drills and showed the visitors every courtesy.

At the request of the sailors, Admiral Glennon, addressed them, urging a continuance of the war without cessation. He was heartily applauded. He also addressed a general meeting of representatives of all the councils of soldiers, sailors and workmen of Sebastopol, where his advocacy of renewed energy in pushing the war was well received.

After hearing the admiral the meeting voted 60 to 3 to restore all the Black Sea fleet officers with the exception of Admiral Koltchak and his staff, who were distrusted by the sailors.

The meeting also voted to support the provisional government. Since the conditions with the fleet have been tranquil. The American admiral will leave tomorrow for a visit to Archangel, proceeding later to Helsingfors.

URGES DEMOCRATIC RULE.

Plan May Win Peace Before Winter, Says German Socialist.

Berlin, June 25.—Philipp Scheidemann, the socialist leader, celebrated his return from the Stockholm conference by the publication in Vorwaerts of a two-column article in which he reveals himself as anything but optimistic concerning early peace prospects.

"In spite of Stockholm, alas," he says, "we fear that we shall be called upon to face the fourth winter of war. To prevent this, if possible, in an honorable way must be our duty. One of the means of achieving this, while not infallibly certain, yet nevertheless most promising is the democratization of Germany."

After upbraiding the German government for its failure to make an exhaustive declaration with regard to its war aims in reply to the socialist interpellation and declining party responsibility for the government's course, Herr Scheidemann continues:

"I believe that each of us has returned from Stockholm with the firm conviction that we are on the right road. We desired to see the peace policy of the central powers, initiated December 12, 1916, carried out without circumvention to completion. Then occurred what we had predicted and vainly tried to stave off—war with the United States. As a result of this our opponents' hope of victory is revived and the war is continued."

Richard P. Barham, Petersburg postmaster, and one of the most prominent men of Southside Virginia, died suddenly at his home in Petersburg Saturday morning. Mr. Barham was for more than twenty-five years owner and editor of the Index Appeal. He was regarded as one of the most able newspaper men in the South. He retired from the newspaper field about seven years ago and was appointed postmaster by President Wilson, suceeding General Stith Balling. A widow survives him.

WOMAN KILLED

Attempted to Protect Her Escort From Four Men.

New York, June 25.—Miss Nellie Whelam, 22 years old, was shot twice and killed early yesterday when attempting to protect her escort, Frank Devlin, a private detective, from the attack of four men. Devlin himself is in a hospital with two bullets in his back and may not recover.

The shooting followed a wild automobile trip about the city and sundry stops at cabarets and similar places. The four men who attacked Devlin were picked up in one of these places and invited to join the party. While the car was proceeding through the Bronx, Devlin resented a remark of one of his unknown guests and the car was stopped so they could take to the roadway and fight it out.

All four men set upon Devlin. He knocked one down, and upon arising drew a revolver from his pocket and fired twice at the detective. Both shots took effect. It was at this juncture that Miss Whelan screaming interfered in the battle and rushed to Devlin. Two more shots were fired and they entered her brain killing her instantly. The chauffeur of the car was arrested last night, but he was unable to tell where his passengers fled.

INFERNAL MACHINES ON SHIP

Germans Would Destroy Norwegian Steamer—Plotters Arrested.

London, June 25.—The seizure of a quantity of explosives which had just reached Christiania, Norway, from Germany, and the arrest of three foreigners, has been officially confirmed, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The police are continuing the investigation and when the details are known another official communication, it is announced, will be issued.

The Tidens Tegn says that 1,000 kilograms of explosives were seized, including a number of infernal machines. One of the men arrested is Aron Rautenfels, a German citizen, born in Finland, who declared the bombs were intended for use in Finland. According to the newspaper, however, the infernal machines, which were inclosed in cases resembling lumps of coal, were to have been put aboard Norwegian ships in coal bunkers. It adds that the discovery of the plot probably explains the loss of many Norwegian vessels that were supposed to have been mined or torpedoed.

BELGIANS' FIRM SPIRIT

College Professor Describes Character of German Punishments.

New York, June 25.—Firmness of the Belgian spirit, even under torture, is described in a letter from Dr. Robert Arrowsmith, of Columbia University, among the last members of the Belgian Relief Commission to leave that land.

Punishments inflicted by the Prussians have sent many Belgians to hospitals, he reported. "Feet black as ink were numerous," he said. "This is the result of a favorite punishment, that of standing in water for twelve or twenty-four hours. I heard of many ingenious forms of torture— digging holes in frozen ground and refilling them, with heavy punishment if the refilled surface was not exactly level with the original surface; dragging heavy carts with coal or stones through the slush and being pelted meanwhile with earth and stones like beasts and living for ten days on naught but decayed fish. In the meantime the flame of hate toward the Boches grows greater."

COCCHI CONFESSES.

Prisoner Declares he is Now Ready to Suffer Any Penalty.

Bologna, Italy, June 25.—Alfredo Cocchi, the fugitive New York motorcycle dealer, abandoned on Saturday his pretense of innocence of the murder of Ruth Cruger, and confessed his guilt. Jealousy was his motive. He was unable, he declared, to win her love, and became furious when she rebuffed his persistent attentions.

The admissions of the young Italian, whose escape the New York police failed to prevent, were made in tears, after searching interrogation by Judge Zucconi broke down Cocchi's reserve. Prior to this examination, Cocchi had coolly and insistently maintained he had known Miss Cruger only two days before her disappearance in February, when she went to his shop to have her skates sharpened, and had declared his conduct toward her was entirely correct.

Under Judge Zucconi's searching questions, however, Cocchi finally burst into tears. He became so agitated as his confession fell haltingly from his lips that the persons surrounding him believed he was about to have an epileptic fit.

He was granted time to recover, and then resumed the story of how the eighteen-year-old Wadleigh High School graduate met death at his hands in the building where her body was recently unearthed from the cellar.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

Shoots Herself After Death of Reputed Naval Officer.

Philadelphia, June 25.—A couple who registered Saturday at a prominent hotel in the center of the city as Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alexander, Philadelphia, were found dead in their room last night. The man, who is said to have been a naval officer, died from heart failure, according to physicians, while the woman shot herself through the mouth with an army revolver. Notes found in the room requested that Lieut. R. B. Colton, of the United States cableship Joseph Henry, at Norfolk, and Mrs. A. J. Schultz, of New York, be notified.

New York, June 25.—At 104 West 123d street last night Alexander J. Scholz, whose wife rents furnished rooms, said that Miss Louise Jones, who killed herself yesterday in a Philadelphia hotel, where she was registered as "Mrs. Frederick Alexander," first had lived at her house for months last winter and had returned in April, remaining until Saturday.

"When she gave up her room on Saturday," said Mr. Sholz, "Miss Jones said she was going downtown to meet Frederick J. Alexander, and that they were going to be married and go to Philadelphia."

DRAFT KNOWN TO MOSES

The Children of Israel Registered For Military Service.

Registration for a selective draft was known thousands of years ago. The first chapter of Numbers tells how Moses in the second year after the exodus from Egypt was commanded to choose from among the various tribes numerators to tabulate the names of the men more than 20 years old, who were able to go to war. The passage, in part, follows.

"Take ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel by their families, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of the names, every male by their polls from 20 years of age and upward, all that are able to go forth to war, thou and Aaron shall number them by their hosts. And with you there shall be a man of every tribe. (Here are mentioned the men who are to assist in the registration).

"And Moses and Aaron took these men that are mentioned and they assembled all the congregation together on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families by their fathers' houses, according to the number of the names from 20 years old and upward."

EXPLOSION SHAKES HAVANA.

Havana, June 25.—An explosion in the magazine of Cabanas Fortress, across the bay from Havana, at 9 o'clock Saturday night shook the entire city. One person is known to be dead and many injured. It is believed a bomb was exploded.

Among the injured were two persons whose sight was destroyed by the flash. It is said that the bomb had been placed against the magazine. Several ships in the harbor were damaged by the blowing up of the magazine.

CATHEDRAL SEIZED.

Released Convicts Threaten Helsingfors With Reign of Terror.

Helsingfors, Finland, June 25.—This city has finally been relieved from the threat of a regime of terror under Jean Boldt, an Anarchist leader, who had lately risen to power and who had gathered about him a group of followers comprising anti-religious maniacs, pickpockets, and other professional criminals lately released from jail.

After a series of incendiary speeches Boldt, followed by 400 rogues, raided the Nicholas Cathedral in the middle of a service being conducted there, and declared the building captured and turned into a "temple of the poor." One of Boldt's followers, an unfrocked priest, stepped into the pulpit and preached a blasphemous, violent sermon on the history of religious shams.

Early the next morning 100 militiamen stormed the cathedral, and notwithstanding Boldt's appeals to his followers to massacre them, defeated the criminals in a hand-to-hand struggle, during which there was considerable shooting and two of the militiamen were wounded. The Cathedral was seriously damaged, its doors being entirely destroyed.

Boldt escaped. He is believed to have left the city surreptitiously, the townspeople having threatened to lynch him.

WOULD SMASH GERMAN NAVY.

Churchill Urges Aggressive Action by Allies' United Fleet.

London, June 25.—Winston Spencer Churchill, in an article in the Sunday Pictorial, demands an aggressive policy for the vast surplus fleets under the Entente Allies command, especially since America's entrance in the war.

"The Allied navies," he declared, "have today at least two dreadnaughts for every one at the disposal of Germany and Austria, and in addition more than four old battelships to one for the enemy. But the superiority in weight of metal, modernity and tonnage is far greater even than those immense figures imply. Are we really to be content to see this vast mass of about 200 battleships wait idle on the off chance of the German fleet emerging to fight until peace—perhaps an unsatisfactory peace—is declared?

"When three old battleships were sunk in the Dardanelles it was represented as a great naval disaster, but what kind of a disaster would it be when, on the day peace is signed, hundreds of battleships are found to have been virtually unused and pass into obsolescence, to be supplanted in future wars by airplanes and submarines?

"We must have a vast blue water fleet capable of engaging the full strength of the enemy with good prospects of success, but after that has been provided for an immense surplus of old but valuable vessels remains, and it is in their adaption for and employment in aggressive action that escape from the present deadlock can still be found.

"It is only when we are able to devise and execute some method of aggressive naval warfare against the Germans that we shall find his weakness and our strength; that we shall liberate our splendid navy from the enchanted circle the submarine has drawn about it and compel our enemies to absorb themselves so much in the process of their own defense as to leave them no leisure to encompass our ruin."

PLAN OF CENTRAL POWERS

Principal Motives Behind the Great European Struggle.

Recent dispatches have presented the danger of a mid-European empire under Prussian domination, stretching from the Baltic to the Bosporus, and splitting Europe into an aggressive and invulnerable hegemony, secured in military power and self-sufficient in economic resources, says George Soule, associate editor of the New Republic in the Philadelphia Press.

Such an empire would give a secure foundation for the future imperialist designs of any Germanic military and capitalist autocracy believing in a divine mission to impose its rule on the earth. It must at all costs be broken up. If its destruction demands a long war involving the complete mobilization of our man power and the spending of all our resources, we must make the sacrifice.

No one who ever read history is ignorant of the traditional policy of Prussia, the method by which Bismarck united the present German empire. Creating common enemies in order to heal dissensions at home, and in order to establish the political supremacy of the strongest military state—that is the successful and time-honored method in Germany.

In Germany itself the Russian revolution has heartened the anti-Imperialists and radicals. The entry of the United States into the war on the basis of the President's Senate address has made possible a new orientation of the allied encirclement.

We must now face the central powers with a sword in one hand and an olive branch in the other. We must say, "if you continue to follow the leadership of imperialist Prussia, it will be war to the bitter end. But if you force her to abandon her imperialist designs and relinquish her conquered territory, we will in turn let you into the world confederacy, we shall not attempt to bottle you in Central Europe.

"You shall keep your seaports, your trade, your colonies, and all territory which is properly yours, provided you establish autonomy for your subject nationalities. Your choice now is not between annihilation and subjection to Prussia, but between subjection to Prussia and free membership in the world."

Such an attitude would slide in the wedge between south and north, between Prussian Junkers and German Social Democrats. Then every military blow, instead of solifying Central Europe, would drive that wedge in further.
